Commodore's Corner

Hello Three Tree Point Club Members,
Commodorable Samantha here from sunny California. Commodore Doug and Best Mate Sharon and I are here at our snow bird home in Hemet. All is well here, a few things needed attention, but all in all this two week trip has been worthwhile.

Doug has been working with Vice Commodore Chuck on how to fund the repairs of our damaged sailing marks. You should have received the notice for the special meeting included in the night of our next social, May 11th. The only item on the agenda for this special meeting is to vote on allowing the board of trustees to transfer $6000 from the Major Project and Investment Fund to the general fund. Thank you to the race committee and all that helped in getting the new marks in place.

The presentation that night by Rein Attemann and Donna Sandstrom on the Southern Resident Orcas should be very interesting.

I am very excited for the upcoming Post Cinco de Mayo Cruise hosted by Carol Jones and crew to Bell Harbor Marina on the weekend of May 7th. This is the first of the six cruises' we will have this year, thank you Cruise Chair Dan Downhour and his best mate Kim.

I am hoping to not compete for That Sinking Feeling Award at this event. Clover Valpey, please don't throw me in the water again. }:-)

If you haven't done so yet please consider sending in your $25 annual dues to the Des Moines Marina Association.

Fair Winds and Smooth Sailing,

Samantha - Commodorable Mascot

Southern Resident Orcas and You:
Local orca pods, the risks they face, and what we can all do to help

Speakers: Rein Attemann, Puget Sound Campaign Manager, Washington Environmental Council and Donna Sandstrom, the Founder/Director of The Whale Trail

Please join us on May 11 at 6:30 for a special presentation about the local Southern Resident orca pods and the Give Them Space campaign, a conservation education and public outreach effort to help reduce noise and disturbance around this critically endangered orca population. The presentation will cover Southern Resident orca biology and family structure, their unique food needs, their seasonal range of habitat, and the science behind the three main threats to their survival. It will conclude with ways everyone can support orca recovery and invite boaters to take a voluntary pledge to help quiet the waters and give orcas space. There are three new calves in the orca population, bringing hope and also the need to make sure they have what they need to thrive.

Boaters have an important role to play in championing the conservation and recovery of these iconic and beloved orcas. Join us to learn more!

The Give Them Space campaign is a joint effort of Washington Environmental Council, Seattle Aquarium, The Whale Trail, Friends of the San Juans, and the Natural Resources Defense Council.

Presenter Bios:

Rein Attemann is the Puget Sound Campaign Manager at Washington Environmental Council where he builds and implements campaigns to achieve policy protections through strong stakeholder and political support for issues important to the health of the Salish Sea such as orca and salmon recovery and protection, clean water, healthy habitats, and oil spill prevention.

Donna Sandstrom is the Founder/Director of The Whale Trail, a series of places to watch orcas and other marine mammals from shore along the west coast of the US and Canada. In 2002 she was a community organizer in the effort to rescue and return Springer, an orphaned orca, to her pod. Inspired by that collaborative success, she founded The Whale Trail in 2008 with an overarching goal of recovering the southern residents from the threat of extinction. Donna recently served as a member of Governor Inslee's Task Force on Southern Resident Orca Recovery. She lives in West Seattle and is the author of a middle grade non-fiction book "Orca Rescue" that will be published in Fall 2021.

Set your alarm for 6:30 pm. Rein and Donna will begin their presentation at 6:45. Hope you will join us.

Janet and Daphne, Social Committee

To join the Zoom meeting, click on the link in Doug's email which he'll send out before the meeting.

Please mute your microphones during the speaker's presentation. Hope to see you then!

Meeting begins at 6:30 and our program will begin at 6:45.

Note: A special vote to amend the budget will take place during this meeting.

Success!!! We had a marathon day and placed the final three marks in the water before the start of the TTPYC Early Spring Series. All six are at station and have survived their first storm. This was a huge undertaking and was only possible with all the help provided by many club members. The marina staff was also made available to assist in the launching process, we would not have been successful without their help. The hope is the new, heavier duty design that includes a foam filled float to hold the anchor line off the bottom, will yield a longer life. Time will tell.

We are three weeks into the Early Spring Series and it has been a great success. We are seeing ~12 boats per race, divided into two classes, one PHRF and one Cruising. We've had dry weather and wind (mostly) and, in general, I think everyone is having a grand time out on the water. Racing or cruising, come out and join the fun! The final race for this series will already have been run by the time this is published so go to the TTPYC web site to see the results. The Late Spring series runs every Thursday in May so you have another chance to join in. We are still looking for help running the races, so if you are interested in taking out your boat and being the Race Committee, please contact me! We'll supply help and training. That frees up another boat for racing.

The flurry of long offshore races are finished up and many of the big international regattas have not yet started. Once they get closer, I will send a notice for your viewing pleasure.

As Covid slowly recedes and the weather improves its time to get back out on the water. Opening Day is just around the corner and club cruising starts in a week. Racing or cruising, hoping to see you out on the water!

We are still trying to increase the use of Facebook to build community, advertise our activities, and generally pep up our club members enthusiasm. There is some difficulty and confusion with our page being listed as an organization vs a group. "LIKE" us, explore both the home site and the group site. Share bits of interest you find about sailing or boating in this area, great reads, upcoming programs elsewhere. This is an extra way keep the club more connected in this time.
